

LEAVING A GIFT IN YOUR WILL TO HELP FOR DOGS

If you have decided to leave something to Help For Dogs in your will, we can't thank you enough. Your gift will enable us to continue helping dogs in need wherever they may be.

Taking legal advice and instructing a solicitor is always advised when preparing your will. Make sure a family member, as well as your executors, knows where your will is kept so your wishes, as detailed in your will, can be carried out on your behalf.

Types of Gifts in Wills

There are three main types of gifts you can leave to Help For Dogs in your will. We suggest you speak to your legal adviser to help you make the decision that's right for you. Every gift makes a difference to the animals who need us and we want you to leave the right gift for your circumstances.

Residuary Gifts

This is where you set aside a portion of your remaining estate after funeral expenses, debts and other gifts in the will have been paid. Many people choose to leave this kind of gift because it helps make sure their loved ones are taken care of first.

Pecuniary Gifts

This is a gift of a specified sum of money. All gifts make a real difference to the animals we care for, but it's worth remembering that the eventual value of this type of gift is likely to be impacted by inflation.

Specific Gifts

This is a gift of a specific, named item. For example, it could be property, a piece of jewellery, a work of art, a car, etc.

Unrestricted Gifts

Many people choose to leave an unrestricted or general gift. It's the most helpful because it allows us to use your gift wherever the need is greatest for our dogs. An unrestricted gift can be either residuary or pecuniary.

Restricted Gifts

You can also specify how or where you'd like your gift to be used by leaving a restricted gift. If you'd like to leave a restricted gift, please contact us to discuss the area of our work you'd specifically like to support using the contact details below:
